

G'day, !

I've been chatting to my friends online and in real life and it seems to me that a LOT of people are doing it tough at the moment. I recently posted a check-in on my Facebook page and I wanted to offer the same to you.

I KNOW a lot of people are doing it tough at the moment.

Life is hard.

The burdens are heavy.

It's all too much.

Every day is exhausting.

One thing piles on top of another.

I too have had yet another sh!t storm blow into my life. It's tough. It's hard. It's f*cking exhausting. But I KNOW I will get through it and come out the other side stronger for it.

I want to say, from my previous experiences, that things DO get better. Life isn't always going to be piling more sh!t on top of you.

In the meantime, if you need to chat or vent. My INBOX is always open and what you share with me will ALWAYS stay with me.

Please take care of you.

Current Projects

I'm (im)patiently waiting for Stolen Kisses to come back from my editor. I can't wait to get Emma and Theo's story into your hands on December 10!

I have to warn you, by all accounts, tissues will be required. So don't say I didn't warn you. #sorrynotsorry

While Stolen Kisses is with the editor, I've begun my research for my next full-length book, Healing Kisses. Can you guess who the star will be?

Will it be ...

Jase

(Oliver's assistant from Loving Summer)

OR

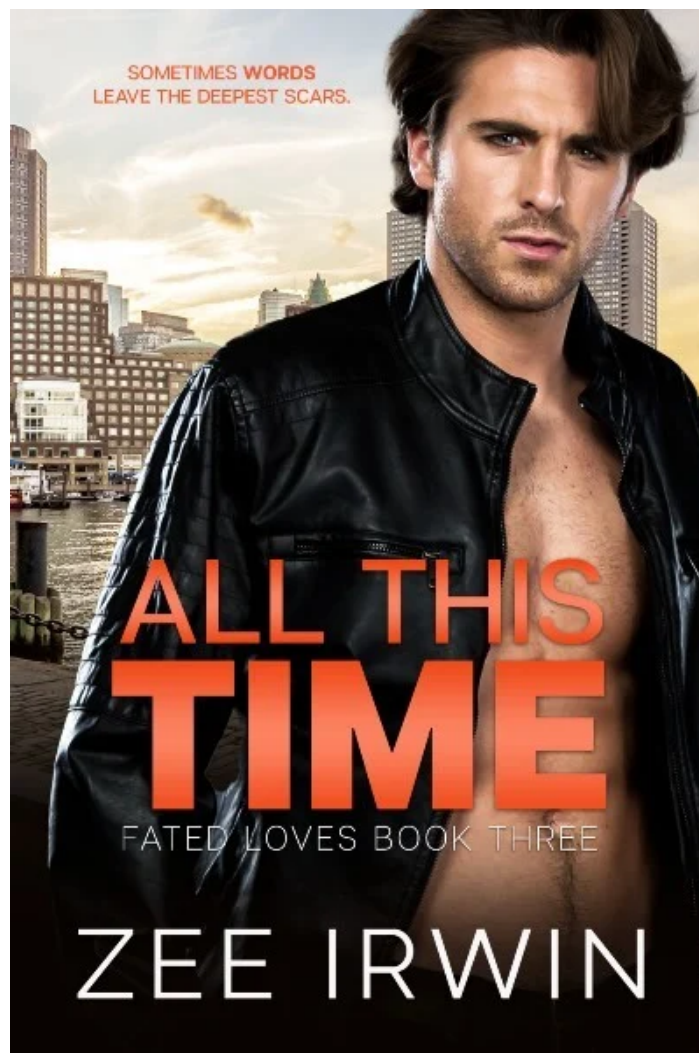

Shane

(Toby's best friend/bodyguard from Second Chance Summer)

Book Booty

She's a book nerd and a cat whisperer. He's scarred and intimidating.

Could the beautiful, quirky bookstore owner tame the beast in the detective?

♥ Lily Young admitted the book boyfriends by the dozen in her Cat's Cradle Bookstore had taken precedence over dating in real-life. She desired the real thing, an everlasting true love, a man holding her nightly, but the journey finding that guy wasn't so easy. She'd kissed a few frogs along the way, and maybe her quirky sense of style chased a few away. One thing was for sure, the heroines in her romance novels made this falling in love thing seem easier than this.

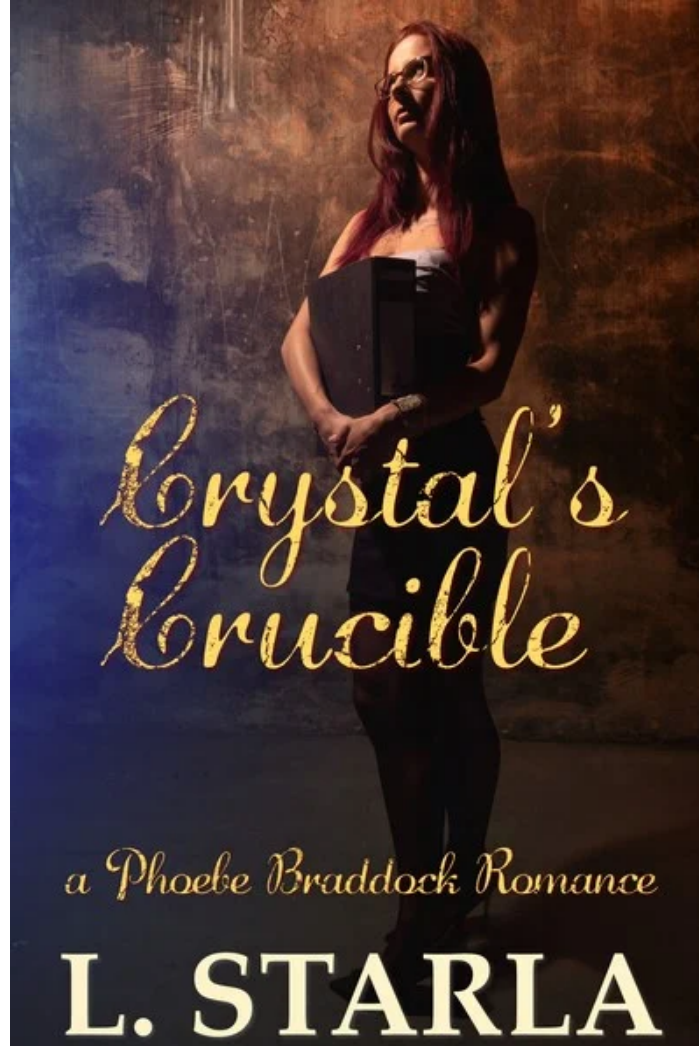

When Detective Jace showed up in her life unexpectedly, would they put their pasts behind for a future together?

♥ Women took one look at Jace Delfino, then looked away. His beastly look was perfect for work, but not for love. As a detective, he could intimidate the most hardened criminals and it hardened his heart as well. But when Lily entered the picture, all he wanted was for her to see how soft she made him feel inside.

When the bad guys got too close to Lily and her bookstore, he worked overtime to protect her. It was his job - but would she let him protect her for life?

This ♥ billionaire, bad boy♥ story will surprise you with cute cats, a little humor, and steamy bits while delivering a Happy Ever After that satisfies. This standalone is also part of the interconnected Fated Loves series.

The laws of attraction are quite beyond science.

Crystal loved rules. A set of principles governed her life. That is why the physical sciences appealed to her. Logic and reasoning kept her afloat amidst the sea of family drama. Intimacy was not part of her equation; she had excluded that variable years ago after a string of disastrous relationships with men who wanted nothing more than sex.

The day she walked through the doors of Aludel Pharma, locking eyes with Adam Fairfax, everything changed. The chemistry between them brought her carefully constructed system crashing down around her. He was her boss, completely off-limits. Crystal thought he was safe to admire from a distance. She was wrong. With the magnetism pulling them together, Crystal needed to choose which opposing rules she would break.

And she needed to act fast because a conspiracy was brewing in her department, threatening to bring her down or take her out.

Note: This is the second book written by the fictional character, Phoebe Braddock, who you meet in I Heart Mr. Collins. The books of this series can be read as stand-alone stories that are linked by theme, but there will be cross-overs planned for the future.

Warning: This book contains coarse language, explicit scenes, situations where consent is dubious, along with graphic depictions of violence, sexual assault, and drug use.
